Issue Number 14

September 1999

Editor's Note

Hard telling when this issue will reach our members. The editor had a death in the family and is in the process of attending to the necessary details in another state. We will be back on track for the next issue!

All of the nice freebies this time are courtesy of Millard Hajek. They are a fine bunch that go along with his articles and report in this issue. Thanks for both!

As you can see, the Mallo Money article did not make this issue, but we hope to run it next time, so if you have any input, please send it in. And your editor found some more play money from early comic strips that we will review. But please continue to send in this great material! We all want to see what is out there and learn more about it. (Don't forget your free ad either.)

Once again, GOOD HUNTING!

Fun Money

September 1999 – Issue 14

Editor-at-fault
Jack Phillips

Fun Money, a newsletter of the American Play Money Society (APMS) for education and fun, is published quarterly to publicize activities of the Society and to distribute educational information regarding play money to society members. The editor will make final decisions about stories and ads for publication. Contents of articles and ads represent views of the authors and do not necessarily represent views of either the editor or Society officers. Only back issues from 1998 and 1999 are available for $2.00 each.

Each APMS member is encouraged to send a free ad of up to five lines for each issue of Fun Money. Ads will not be run continuously, so please send a new ad each time.

AD RATES

Business card (1/8 page): four issues for $6.00. Camera ready: $12.00 full page, $6.00 for 1/2 page, and $3.00 for 1/4 page.

"Did Somebody Say McDonalds"

By Ed Craig

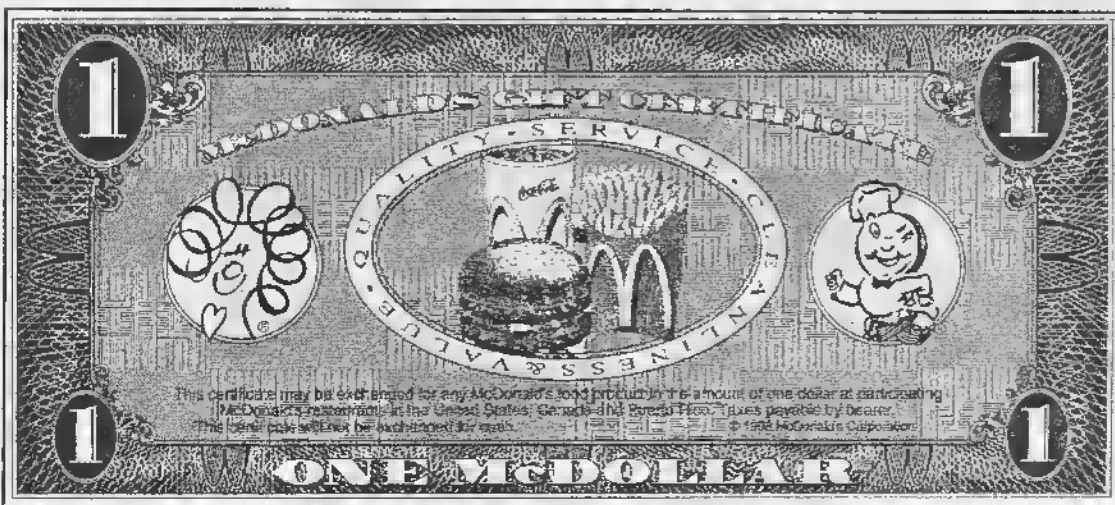

When was the last time you went to McDonald's? If you haven't been to one lately, you might want to stop by. No, not for the burgers and fries or the hot coffee, but for something that you can add to your collection. They have an interesting collectible for those of us that save "Funny Money" and the like. In previous years I have purchased McDonald's gift certificates to give to my nieces and nephew or to use for Halloween. In fact, McDonald's frequently offers a special gift certificate for holidays. In the past, these have been rather plain certificates that came in a book of five with an expiration date of about a year. Toward the end of 1998 they brought out a new gift certificate – "The McDollar" (see copy below).

I found out about the McDollar when I saw an advertisement for McDonald's and the Disney movie "A Bug's Life". The ad included an item that looked like money. I went to McDonald's, bought some coffee and a five pack of McDollars. They came in a gift envelope that advertised the Disney movie. They are $5 for five McDollars. To my pleasant surprise, they are a good quality stock and very well designed.

The McDollar is predominantly red in color. In the center of the obverse are the golden arches and a scroll saying "THE GOLDEN ARCHES". This is done in two shades of yellow or gold coloring. On each side of the arches are the Coca Cola and McDonald's logos – the Coke is red and the McDonald's logo is embossed, metallic gold. Below the Coke seal is the serial number of the McDollar. The two digits "98" appear on the white and yellow background at the lower left above the fancy red border to signify the date of issue. Hopefully, this means there will be subsequent issues in 1999.

The reverse of the McDollar is red on white with the same border as the obverse. In the center is a Coke, fries and burger within an oblong that contains the words "Quality o Service o Cleanliness & Value". On either side of the oblong are two seals showing registered trademark McDonald's characters. Below the oblong is the text stating that: "This certificate may be exchanged for any McDonald's food product in the amount of one dollar at participating McDonald's restaurants in the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico. Taxes payable by bearer. This certificate will not be exchanged for cash." Also shown at the bottom right is 1998 McDonald's Corporation registration.

Astro Play Money

By Jack Phillips

Many of us have picked up a few "Universal Cash" coins along the way; numbers U-152 through U-155 in Richard Clothier's book, Play Money of American Children. But, like Richard, we did not know much about them or their origin. A recent buy on the eBay auction has provided some insight into where at least some of them came from.

The package shown below is about 5 1/4 inches wide by 6 1/8 inches tall with a clear plastic wrapper attached to hold the paper money and coins. The cardboard has a medium blue background with "Astro Play Money" in yellow and "inter-planet coins & bills" in white. The boy on the right is in a white space suit trimmed in red. The package is dated 1969 by Chemtoy Corporation, Chicago, Illinois 60650. And the tiny print at the bottom says "Made in the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong". Oh yes, the original price was a whopping 10¢!

Astro Play Money (continued)

The package contents consist of five paper bills and 24 plastic coins. The bills measure 4 1/2 inches wide by 2 inches high and are printed with purple ink on a white background. There is one of each denomination: 1, 5, 10, 100, and 1000. The plastic coins are in three denominations (5¢, 10¢, and 20¢) and two colors (gray and dull gold). This particular package held seven 5¢ coins (three gray and four gold), nine 10¢ coins (five gray and four gold), and eight 20¢ coins (four each of both colors). The obverse of the coins each say "Universal Cash" with the respective denomination in the center. All of the coins have the same reverse showing a space helmet and the words "Hong Kong".

Coins and bills shown actual size

It is probable that these coins and bills were distributed in other types of displays. So, keep an eye out for more out-of-this-world money!

Pontiac Safety Drive Game

By Jane Sears

The Pontiac Safety Drive game was given out by Pontiac dealers. It was packaged in an 8" x 11" brown envelope. The front of the envelope announced the coming of two new Pontiacs for '38 that were better looking, better built and a better buy. "Be one of the first 1938 Pontiac owners. Place your order now for the earliest possible delivery. Presented by Dauphin Motor Car Corporation of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Made by R. L. Polk and Company in 1937." The back of the envelope has the rules of the game. It encourages you to test your driving skill, your knowledge of traffic rules and judgement of the highways.

Pontiac Safety Drive Game (continued)

This game reproduces all the problems encountered in driving an automobile through the congested streets of a typical city.

The object of the game is to acquire the most money by being the first player to reach the various objectives with the least loss through fines or damages. Each player receives $500.00 in play bills. One player acts as a banker. Two to 8 players may play at one time.

The colorful game board portrays a street map, with traffic signals, sixteen objective points (golf course, fair grounds, etc.) and obstacles (jail, hospital, etc.). Rules and penalties are based on actual traffic regulations. The game is always moving in a forward direct, no reversing or U-turns.

The game board measures 21" x 22" and was folded up in the envelope. It was suggested to glue the game board on to cardboard. Game markers are little cardboard cars. Game cards marked OBJECTIVE, CHANCE and SENTENCE issued awards, fines, and warnings. The play money is in denominations of 5 (lt. green), 10 (yellow), 20 (tan), 50 (orange), and 100 (lt. blue) with black ink. Printed on one side only they promoted the new Pontiac's clear vision windshield, triple sealed hydraulic brakes, safety unisteel body, strong rigid bridge-type frame and hydraulic shock absorbers. A spinner was used to advance the players.

1938 Pontiac Play Money

By Jane Sears

Pontiac play money came in a brown wallet with a foil embossed Indian head on the outside. It consisted of five bills measuring 7 inches by 2 3/4 inches and printed with green ink on white paper. The front reads Pontiac's biggest value in Quality, Economy, Safety, Comfort, and Dependability (four of the bills are shown below). The reverse acknowledges Pontiac's sixes and eights equipment for 1938.

APMS East Coast Meeting Highlights And Then Some...

By Millard W. Hajek-APMS #38

The Maryland State Numismatic Association (MSNA) held its' Annual Atlantic Rarities Coin Expo on June 11-13, 1999 at the Baltimore Convention Center. As part of the Association's effort to support clubs and promote numismatics, a YN Program was held and various clubs held meetings during the show including the Maryland Token And Medal Society (MD TAMS) and the East Coast Contingent of the American Play Money Society (APMS).

"Fun Money" was in abundance at all of these meetings starting with the YN Program which gave each Young Numismatist a "Souvenir Dollar". Also designed were a $5 and $10 version but because of a computer malfunction, (Can you imagine running your ink cartridge dry at 11:30 P.M. without another handy? Well, I did!) these two denominations were not distributed to the YN's. The $1 specimen was printed on green paper; the $5 specimen on yellow paper and the $10 specimen on pink paper all in black ink, 6 1/8" X 2 5/16" and are illustrated below.

The MD TAMS members who attended this Annual Meeting received "One Frog Skin" which helped to commemorate the 20th Anniversary of the Society. These notes, 3 5/8" X 8 1/2" have a green frog in the center wearing a gold crown with a green border on the face of the note. The denomination "One Frog Skin" is also in green, the signatures of the President and Treasurer in black and all other printing in a reddish brown. The back of the note also has a green border with all printing in the reddish brown color, except the 20th/Anniversary/1979-1999, which is printed in red and the MD TAMS seal, which has a yellow ring and the shield in red, white, black and gold, the colors of the Maryland flag. The notes at the meeting were embossed over the president's signature while all other members received an unembossed specimen in the mail along with their MD TAMS Journal as part of the annual-give-away program. Also given to members at the meeting was a MD TAMSOPOLY Game created by the Society's Vice President, Millard Hajek. The game was complete with directions, a board, play money in 1, 5, 10, 12 1/2, 25 50, and 100 denominations, a die and two play money coins. The "Frog Skin" notes and TAMSOPOLY Game money are illustrated below.

Collectors who attended the East Coast APMS Meeting received a set of 8 "American Play Money Society" ONE BUCK notes printed in black ink on eight different colors of paper. The center features a cartoon likeness of George Washington with a dollar sign on a shield to the left and an eagle's head facing left in a circle on the right of the note with the back of the note blank. The notes are serial numbered and measure 2 1/2" X 6". The different serial numbers on the notes were used to award door prizes to the meeting attendees. Door prize chairperson, APMS member Jane Sears, designed the notes and handled the awarding of the prizes. Plenty of trading, selling and swapping took place with everyone adding plenty of new "fun money" to his or her collection.

The attendance at the East Coast APMS Meeting was on the skimpy side with only 6 collectors attending. However, the enthusiasm displayed by those in attendance easily made up for the lack of attendance by others. Special thanks to Russ and Jane Sears for all their hard work in chairing the meeting and assembling the door prizes. And a special thank you to all those who donated door prizes for the session. Efforts will be made to schedule future meetings to give those collectors that did not attend this session another opportunity to do so. Look for future meeting announcements in The American Play Money Society Newsletter, FUN MONEY.

Reward Yourself with JCPenney® "Reward Dollars"

By Millard W. Hajek-APMS #38

To promote and stimulate sales over the Memorial Day Holiday 4-day weekend from Friday through Monday, May 28-31, 1999, JCPenney offered "Reward Dollars" when you purchased any regular-priced and sale-priced store and catalog merchandise.

| When you spent:  | You Got:                        |
|------------------|---------------------------------|
| $50 .....       | $5 Reward Dollars              |
| $100 .....      | $10 Reward Dollars             |
| $150 .....      | $15 Reward Dollars             |
| $200 .....      | $20 Reward Dollars             |
| Over $200 ..... | you kept earning Reward Dollars |

To get the "Reward Dollars" you simply presented receipts from purchases made May 28 through May 31 to a designated Reward Dollar Center in the store. You were then issued JCPenney "Reward Dollars" based on the amount of your purchases. These "Reward Dollars" could have been used instantly or on a return visit through June 6, 1999.

The JCPenney "Reward Dollars" were issued in $5 and $10 denominations and are illustrated below. The border and illustration in the oval are printed in blue, the denomination to the right of the oval is in red, the signature to the left of the oval is blue, the seal below the signature is gold, and all are printed on a background of light tan with a greenish tinge on the note face or obverse. The back or reverse of the note is blue printing on white. The notes measure 3 1/2" X 6 1/2".

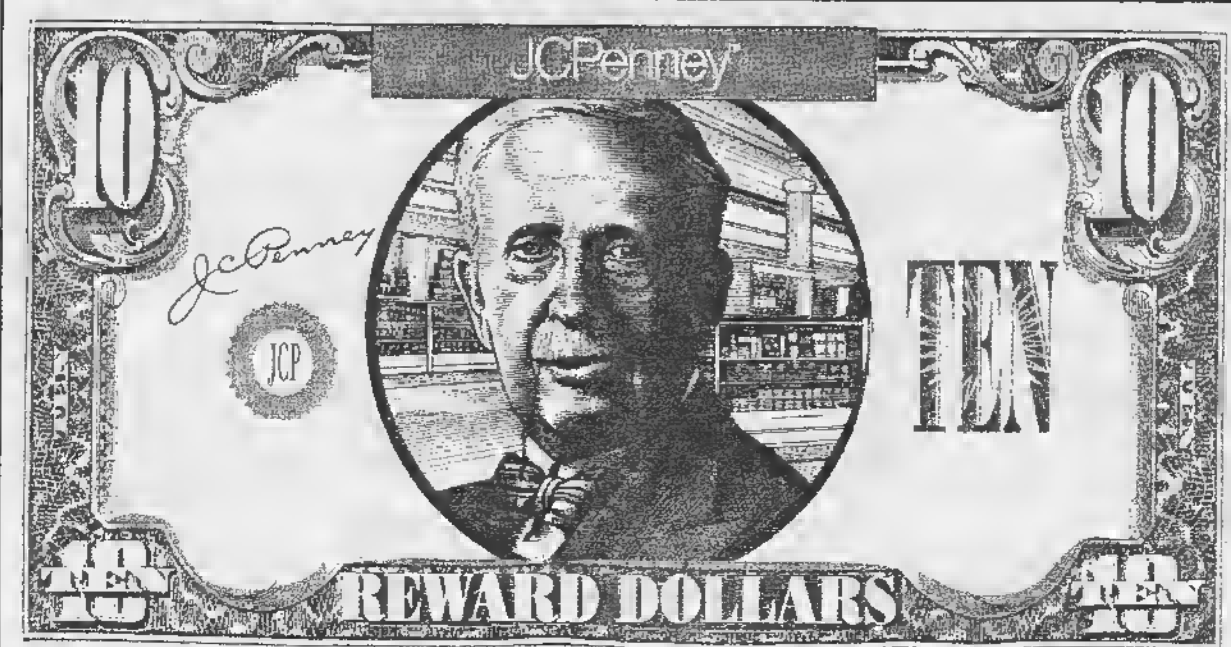

A very special thanks to Mr. Warren Richards, store Manager of the Columbia Mall JCPenney Store in Columbia, Maryland, for providing specimens of the JCPenney "Reward Dollars" for APMS members. (Shown actual size.)

This Reward Dollar Certificate may be used for discounts on merchandise purchases JCPenney Store. No change to be given. Cash value 1/20 of 1 cent. May not be used as on your credit account, for services, for purchase of gift certificates or as prohibited by law used on prior purchases. Purchases will be subject to credit approval. Reward Dollar valid through June 6, 1999.

Mint's Web site for kids ...a winner.

A recent issue of Coin World mentioned a new web site for kids at www.usmint.gov, so naturally your editor had to surf over and check it out. The pilot version of H.I.P. Pocket Change premiered online July 15. Once you get to the main page just click "Kids" and then enter the Clubhouse. It is really neat and you can even create your own coin design! This is a very well designed web site with great graphics, but it does load a bit slow. I think many of these web developers must forget that some of us don't have high speed internet access. This would be a great learning tool for any child. We still have not explored all of the various corners of this site, but from what we have seen it is wonderful and shows what can be done with a little (lot!) of work and creativity.

So, even if you are not technically a kid, check this site out; after all, we all like play money.

UPDATES

American Hero Play Coins

From Randy Partin
Light blue Buffalo Bill 5.

From Jane Sears
Pink in all persons.

Circus Play Coins

From Jane Sears
Pink in all animals;
Green 10 in African Hippopotamus.

Note from Russ Sears about the meeting on Saturday, June 12, 1999. (Baltimore, MD. At the Maryland State Numismatic Association's Atlantic Rarities Coin Exposition)

"Saturday's get together was fun, but unfortunately there were only six of us. We didn't plan to be too organized, but had door prize drawings, which included play money tickets which Jane made. Everyone won at least one door prize. How many meetings have you been to where everyone won? Included were Jane Sears, Millard Hajek, Ed Craig, Dot Hajek, Sandy Emme, and me, Russ Sears. Basically, it was a swap, sell, and buy. Before we called it a day, we decided that when we have the Maryland Token and Medal Society (MD TAMS) swap meet later in the year, we plan to include play money in the buy, sell, trade."
